What's Special About The Ski Resorts proposed in our itineraries:

Cortina d'Ampezzo

Why do we love Cortina d'Ampezzo? It's a destination that combines rich traditions, thrilling ski events, and a glamorous atmosphere, all set within a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Known as the "Queen of the Dolomites," Cortina hosted Italy's first Winter Olympics in 1956 and will proudly co-host the games again in 2026, alongside Milan. Its timeless allure and cinematic scenery make it a must-visit.

Val di Fassa/Carezza

Seven ski areas offering 110 kilometers of slopes, served by more than 50 lifts, take you to the most stunning Dolomite peaks, ranging from 1,200 to 2,950 meters above sea level. Whether you're a beginner or an expert, Alba, Canazei, Campitello, Pozza, Vigo, and Carezza have trails for every level in a breathtaking setting. Beyond skiing, enjoy snowshoeing, hut experiences, and tobogganing—there's something for everyone!

Alta Badia

Welcome to Alta Badia, a picture-perfect region nestled in the heart of the Ladin Dolomites, a mountain range like no other. Part of the Dolomiti Superski network, Alta Badia offers slopes for skiers of every level. But there's more to this resort than just skiing: wide-open spaces, lush forests, fresh air, and the warmth of Ladin hospitality create an unforgettable alpine experience.

Val Gardena/Seiser Alm

Val Gardena and Seiser Alm together form the largest skiing area in the Dolomites! With exciting tours like the Seiser Alm Ronda, Val Gardena Ronda, and the iconic Sellaronda, you can embark on extraordinary one-day adventures through the heart of the Dolomites. For those seeking unforgettable skiing experiences, Val Gardena/Seiser Alm is an essential destination for your South Tyrol skiing holiday.

Arabba/Marmolada

Endless ice fields, iconic peaks, and rich history define Marmolada, the highest glacier in the Dolomites. The village of Arabba, located near the Dolomites' tallest peak at 3,343 meters, is a paradise for nature lovers and winter sports enthusiasts. Here, you'll find family-run accommodations brimming with genuine hospitality.

Civetta

Civetta is the largest ski resort in the Veneto region, offering 72 kilometers of slopes catering to all levels. Whether you're seeking day or night-time fun, Civetta guarantees a true winter adventure amidst its snowy landscape.

San Pellegrino/Alpe di Lusia

If you're looking for a challenge on the slopes, shredding in the snowpark, or trying skiing for the first time, San Pellegrino/Alpe di Lusia is the perfect spot! With black slopes featuring nearly 50% gradients, a snowpark, and gentle hillsides ideal for families, this resort has something for everyone.
